Come join your colleagues on November 1–2 at the Homestead, a resort nestled in the mountains and a grand and gracious environment for the joint Virginia Library Association and Virginia Association of Law Libraries 2007 Annual Conference.

The Conference Committee has put together an exciting program incorporating this year's theme: Reflect, Re-tool, Recharge: Building skills and partnerships for successful libraries. David Baldacci, a well-known novelist who practiced law as both a trial and corporate attorney, will be the first general session speaker on Thursday morning. Roy Tennant, a Senior Program Manager for OCLC Programs and Research, will be our Friday keynote speaker. Elisa Carbone, this year's Jefferson Cup winner with her novel Blood on the River: James Town 1607, will highlight the Jefferson Cup luncheon.

Two stimulating pre-conferences will be offered: "The Art of Thinking Big: Writing a competitive grant proposal," presented by Elaina Norlin, a former IMLS Senior Program Officer and "Celebrating the Silver Anniversary of the Jefferson Cup Award" featuring Jim Murphy, three-time Jefferson Cup Award winner and Patricia Reilly Giff, the 2005 Jefferson Cup Award winner. They, along with current and past members of the Jefferson Cup Committee, will highlight 25 years of historical literature for young people.

The concurrent sessions will run the gamut from reflection to re-charging oneself. There are over 50 sessions for everyone whether you're in Academic, Public, School or Special libraries. Topics include: "Desperate Engagement: The Story of the little-known but crucial Civil War Battle of Monocacy and Jubal Early's March of Washington, D.C.,” “Writing and Publishing Local History,” “Get Your Game On: Connecting With All Ages Through Video Games," “Re-Tool Your Library With Radical Trust," “You Can Run But You Can't Hide,” “Staying Safe in Cyberspace," “It's a Web 2.0 World!,” “IM Reference,” and “M-Learning.”

Don't forget to drop-in at the VLA-VALL Pub during Thursday night's social. Music will be provided by Traditional Voices, a Celtic-American folk group who plays reels and jigs, sings bawdy whiskey songs, sea shanties and sweet ballads. Join them for a pint and sing along or just relax with friends.

Other highlights of the conference include “High Tea” in the Exhibit Hall and our ever popular “Scholarship Raffle.”

It has been fun working with our colleagues from VALL this year and I look forward to seeing you at this year's conference. As we gather in the reflective surroundings of the Homestead on November 1–2, let's mingle with friends, discover what colleagues are doing in their libraries, gain new skills and ideas, discover new trends and how to meet future challenges and then return to our libraries revitalized from this conference to create new successes and partnerships.

Pat Howe
President, Virginia Library Association
Welcome to the 2007 Joint Virginia Association of Law Libraries/Virginia Library Association Conference! This conference has been over a year in the making with much effort and hard work put forth by both of our associations. We look forward to a wonderful time spent at The Homestead with our colleagues from VALL and VLA.

In addition to the excellent programming provided by VLA, please note that there will be eight programs presented by VALL members over the course of the conference. Paul Barron will speak on legal research on the Open and Deep Web, Tim Coggins will discuss Authentic Legal Information in the Digital Age: Is Online Legal Information Trustworthy, Jean Holcomb will raise our spirits with Lost That Whistle-While-You-Work Feeling? Staff Meeting Management Strategies for Library Directors and Managers, Evelyn Campbell will guide us through Finding Your English Ancestors Through Online Resources: A Personal Journey, Jean Holcomb returns with Managing By the Book: A Top Ten: List of Management Resources for Librarians, Joyce Janto will astound us with Legal Research and Sources for the Non-Law Librarian, Rae Best and Femi Cadmus will review Researching Virginia Laws and Public Records on the Internet, and finally, Evelyn Campbell returns to remind us that You Can Run But You Can't Hide.

These programs, along with the many VLA programs and keynote speakers David Baldacci and Roy Tenrunt will make for an energizing experience. VALL’s partnership with VLA for this conference gives us the opportunity to reflect on our roles, re-tool our skills and recharge our spirits for the task ahead. I look forward to seeing everyone at the Homestead.

"THE ART OF THINKING BIG": WRITING A COMPETITIVE GRANT PROPOSAL

1:00–4:00 PM
Dominion Room

Presenter will be ELAINA NORLIN, Manager of New Initiatives and Outreach, OCLC CAPCON. Cost is $25 for VLA/VALL Members; $30 Non-Member.

This presentation will show participants how to change a great project idea into an award-winning grant proposal. Based on first-hand experiences, a former IMLS Senior Program Officer will instruct you on some of the common pitfalls to avoid and how to develop a success strategy that will dramatically increase your odds of winning a national federal grant.

Great rates. Fewer fees.

CELEBRATE THE SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF THE JEFFERSON CUP AWARD

1:00–4:00 PM with reception following.
Empire Room

Featured guest speakers:

JIM MURPHY, three-time Jefferson Cup Award winner, who brings historical events to life for young readers. His Jefferson Cup Award winning books include Blizzard (2001), The Great Fire (1996), and Across America on an Immigrant Train (1994).

PATRICIA REILLY GIFF, author of books that celebrate life and winner of the 2005 Jefferson Cup Award, A House of Tailors. Her historical fiction books are based on characters from her own family history and their vivid stories.

DONNA HUGHES, editor and author of The Jefferson Cup Award Turns 25. As Children's Services Librarian of Handley Regional Library she has been a part of four Jefferson Cup Award committees, serving as Chairperson of the 2005 committee.

The afternoon event will take a look at 25 years of writing historical literature for young people and will have the award-winning authors sharing their process of research, writing and publishing in the fields of historical fiction and historical non-fiction. A panel discussion led by the authors will conclude the session as participants are dismissed to a celebratory reception and author signings. Current and past committee members will gather to share their stories, while door prizes of award-winning books are given out. Come for the celebration! Come to hear authors! Come for the information! Come for the books!

VLA 2007 Awards

Honorary Life Member—Nolan T. Yelich
Nolan Yelich began his Virginia library career in August 1968, as the Director of Public Services at the College of William and Mary. In June 1973, he came to what was then the Virginia State Library serving in positions that included Director of Administrative Services and Deputy State Librarian. In March 1995, Mr. Yelich was named State Librarian in time to direct the once-in-a-lifetime move to the new Library of Virginia. Mr. Yelich retired as Librarian of Virginia in June 2007, having faithfully served libraries throughout the Commonwealth for 39 years. Mr. Yelich also served as President of the Virginia Library Association in 1978.

George Mason Award—Richard F. Andersen
In his position as Vice President for Information Systems at Tidewater Community College, Richard F. Andersen proved himself to be an advocate for excellent libraries through improved staffing and increased resources. Mr. Andersen advanced a unified library organization, promoted professional development for all levels of staff, and increased awareness of library and information services at the executive level of the college.

Trustee Library Award—Patricia Atherholt
Mrs. Atherholt’s involvement at the Goochland Branch Library began in 1990 when she became a library volunteer. Just one year later, she became the President of the Friends of the Goochland Branch Library, a position she still holds today. Mrs. Atherholt was appointed to the Pamunkey Regional Library Board of Trustees in 1998, where she served as Secretary, Vice President, and President of the Board. She holds memberships to state and national library associations, and was named the Outstanding Trustee of 2003 by the Virginia Public Library Director’s Association. Mrs. Atherholt is an advocate for library funding on the local, state, and national levels; and it was through her leadership and effort that the first public building to be built in Goochland County in decades (excepting schools) was constructed. Thanks to Mrs. Atherholt’s tireless work with the local Board of Supervisors and State legislators, the new Goochland Branch Library was built and fully staffed. The Library has become one of the focal points of life in Goochland, thanks to Mrs. Atherholt’s vision and commitment.

Friends of the Library Award
Friends of the Farmville-Prince Edward Community Library
In the early 1980’s, after decades of segregated services in Prince Edward County, two librarians at two separate libraries (the Farmville Reading Room and the Farmville Public Library) concluded that a single library would best serve all of the county’s citizens. After this announcement, a group of local citizens formed a friends group and incorporated in March 1984 as the Friends of the Farmville-Prince Edward Community Library. This group lobbied the local government to support the creation of a public library, and through these efforts the library was dedicated in September 1987. In the 23 years since this friends group was formed, they have not faltered in their dedication and service to the library, proving that it does “take a village” to come together under strong leadership to make things happen.
VLA 2007 Scholarship Winners

Alex Reczkowski of Hampden-Sydney, Virginia
Alex is employed in the technical services at Hampden-Sydney, and is earning his MLIS degree from the University of Illinois. He is active in local civic groups, including serving as a board member of the R.R. Morton Museum in Farmville, Virginia, and doing community live arts work in Charlottesville. He has been a member of VLA since 2006. Alex is also active in the VLAPF and became a member of the Board in June 2006. He also serves as the current recording secretary for VLAPF. Alex says: “With knowledge, experience, and enthusiasm, I will continue to make a difference for Virginia, her libraries, and her communities.” Alex is the 2007 winner of the Clara Stanley VLAPF scholarship.

Lee Criscuolo of Spotsylvania, Virginia
Lee is employed as a reference assistant at the Central Rappahannock Regional Library in Fredericksburg, Virginia. She is earning her MLIS degree from the University of Virginia. She has been a member of VLA since 2006. In addition to her work at the library, and earning her degree, Lee has been active in several community organizations. About completing her degree, Lee says: “I believe gaining experience in different departments of the library will enhance my abilities as a librarian and my ability to benefit the library in the future.”

Cheryl Duncan of Dayton, Virginia
Cheryl is employed as Head of Serials and Library management System Administration at the James Madison University Libraries. She is earning her MLIS degree from Texas Woman’s University. She has been a member of VLA since early 2007. Cheryl has an excitement about the future of libraries and states: “This is an exciting time to work in libraries. I look forward to collaborating with my colleagues throughout academia to create innovative solutions to answer the challenges of libraries.”

THURSDAY 1:15-2:00
Piedmont Room
A Fresh Look at Funding—Legislation 2008
At the turn of the last century, Andrew Carnegie saw the potential of the public library and invested millions in libraries across the nation. Today, people ask if libraries are still essential and whether they should command priority in the competition for public dollars. To learn how you can play a crucial role in ensuring that our legislators understand that, now more than ever, the public library is an essential tool for equity, opportunity and community development in the information age. Our agenda for ensuring that citizens of Virginia have unlettered access to information in a variety of formats follows a similar pattern of initiatives promoted in the past but offers new strategies, new activities and new opportunities to succeed. You are the key to the success of VLA’s Legislative Agenda—come find out how you can help start a new history of partnership for supporting public libraries. Thanks for helping us increase awareness about the importance of participating in the legislative process.

M-Learning: What is Driving Mobility and How Does it Impact Our Libraries? (Sponsored by VACRL)
Laptop sales overtook desktop sales in 2005. Announcements of new portable media players and "smart phones" make headlines everywhere. Mobile computing devices are on their way to transforming every part of our culture. What drives the demand for these devices? How might higher education and librarians tap into the intimacy and ubiquity of these devices? Can mobile learning give us greater opportunities for interaction with our library patrons? Do these technologies enhance learning experiences in or out of the library? Join Dr. Campbell for an eclectic, thought-provoking examination of libraries, mobility and computing.
Presenter(s): W. Gardner Campbell, University of Mary Washington
THURSDAY 2:15-3:00
Mt. Vernon Room

Authentic Legal Information in the Digital Age: Is Online Legal Information Trustworthy?
Our courts, citizens and the legal system depend on statutes, regulations and court decisions to be accurate, unaltered, official and authentic. While legal information provided by the state governments in digital format has many benefits, most are not considered official, and none are authenticated or afford ready authentication. This program will address issues associated with official and authentic online legal resources and will present the findings of a recent state-by-state analysis of online legal resources.
Presenter(s): Timothy L. Coggins, University of Richmond School of Law and Mary Alice Baish, American Association of Law

THURSDAY 2:15-3:00
Appalachian Room

Desperate Engagement: The Story of the Little-Known but Crucial Civil War Battle of Monocacy and Jubal Early's March of Washington, D.C. Journalist, historian and author Marc Leepson (Saving Monticello, Flag: An American Biography, etc.), will present a talk on his latest book, Desperate Engagement: How a Little Known Civil War Battle Saved Washington, D.C. and Changed American History. The lively and informative talk will focus on the main players in the tale, including the controversial Confederate Gen. Jubal Early, a colorful Union Gen. Lew Wallace, who went on to write Ben Hur, as well as how these July 1864 events altered the course of the Civil War.
Presenter(s): Marc Leepson, Author

THURSDAY 2:15-3:00
Empire Room

Beyond Tick Marks: Creating Meaningful Reference Statistics
Learn how one library completely changed its method of collecting reference desk statistics. Learn how the resulting data helped influence reference, instruction, and collection development decisions.
Presenter(s): Eric Ackermann, Radford University

THURSDAY 2:15-3:00
Blue Ridge Room

Creating “Actionable Data”
Today’s libraries have to balance traditional needs (books, periodicals) to providing an ever-changing technology infrastructure (digital resources, social networking). In order to justify expenditures, there is pressure to continuously produce data to make decisions. Using real life examples, this presentation introduces the concept of “actionable data,” and how to use this technique to produce easier and significant information every time.
Presenter(s): Elaina Norlin, OCLC Capcon

THURSDAY 2:15-3:00
Georgetown Room

IM Reference: Fast, Cheap and in Control
Virtual reference is rapidly becoming a standard practice, but many libraries are still looking for the right fit. Learn why two academic libraries chose instant messaging over expensive virtual reference alternatives, and hear practical suggestions for implementing and maintaining an IM reference service.
Presenter(s): Candice Benjes-Small, Radford University and Olivia Reinauer, University of Richmond

Batch Loading with LTI and MarcEdit
Authority Control for batch-loads can be an arduous process. Catalogers at Virginia Tech have implemented a workflow for the batch-loading process using MarcEdit and Library Technologies, Inc. (LTI).
Batches are processed in Marc, sent to LTI, then loaded. Clean up of unauthorized headings can be done both before and after loading using LTI reports. This session will demonstrate that process.

The growing variety and popularity of graphic novels makes them an important part of your library. Graphic Novels Core Collection highlights more than 2,000 recommended titles with descriptive and evaluative annotations, plus cover art.

Available exclusively on WilsonWeb!

- Search by author, title, subject, genre, and grade level.
- Annotations include brief descriptions, review excerpts and awards the title has won.
- Subject headings identify subgenres of fictional graphic novels and topics or themes treated in nonfiction graphic novels.
- Ratings by age appropriateness are strictly applied.
- Cover art offers important insights into the style and content of each novel.
- Search simultaneously with other Wilson Core Collections or other Wilson databases, including Readers' Guide.
